the entire graduating students of West African College of Nursing for year 2021 are very wonderful, and very resourceful. the interaction with them remain ever green in my memory. Nursing profession is noble and very unique among health care professional family universally. It's growth and development remains our responsibilities as professionals. the striving for the well being for the practitioners is a task that we must all contribute to. We as professionals are the summary page of the professional bibliography for the public to read, interpret and judge as well as forming an opinion. These opinions characterizes our public image. therefore we have to be proud and good ambassadors of the noble profession.
